

About Steve Boorstein

Steve Boorstein, The Clothing Doctor®, spends his days helping people solve clothing problems; shopping, caring, cleaning and storing. However, he is also an expert on the care of household items such as tablecloths, draperies, bedspreads, quilts, furniture covers, tapestries, and other items made of fabric. In addition, Steve also addresses all aspects of shopping, caring, cleaning, altering and storing.

Steve has worn many hats during his 30 years in the clothing industry, working with some amazing people. Along the way, he has restored clothing for Lynda Carter, Hillary Clinton, and Elton John, two Chief Justices, sports team owners, and thousands of clothing lovers. Steve is also a top graduate of the International Fabricare Institute (IFI) and sits on the Board of IFI's Award of Excellence program with Heloise and other clothing industry experts.

Beginning his professional life as a third-generation drycleaner, Steve owned one of the most exclusive drycleaners in the country. He went on to own a clothing store and to author the quintessential book about clothing care, The Ultimate Guide to Shopping and Caring for Clothing. He has appeared on The View (with Barbara Walters), Good Day New York, CBS News, and has been interviewed in more than 150 newspapers and magazines. Steve also wrote and hosted a national radio show called The Clothing Doctor, in which he interviewed important and renowned fashion and clothing-care professionals.

Seminars & Advice: Steve is available for speaking events and seminars. Steve answers fabric care questions by email everyday! See our Contact page.

Steve works closely with retailers and designers, presenting clothing-care seminars at Neiman Marcus, Saks, Nordstrom, Versace, and Chanel Boutique. Speaking regularly for assorted groups of clothing lovers, Steve is also a National Spokesperson for the Fabricare Foundation.

On-Line Store

Lastly, Steve works diligently to provide his on-line store with the best-quality clothing-care products, books and services. All the products listed and sold in the store are available to consumers and business-people alike, with many items bearing The Clothing Doctor Seal of Approval.

For Clothing Professionals

In addition, Steve heads a company called FMG Buyer's Network (Fashion Media Group), which offers a wide variety of products and services for the retail clothing and fashion industry trade, as well as for the drycleaning industry. The catalogue is large and impressive, providing elite products and services at wholesale prices. For information and an electronic catalogue, write info [at] clothingdoctor.com or call 800.300.9975.
